Courses Offered in Winter 2018
Graduate Level

Courses offered in Winter 2018 by the Feminist Studies Department:

FEMST 240 – Transnational Feminisms (Ameeriar)
FEMST 250AB – Feminist Theories (Tomlinson)
FEMST 501 – Apprentice Teaching in Women’s Studies
FEMST 595 – Conversations for Change (Miller-Young)
FEMST 596 – Directed Reading and Research (by instructor)
FEMST 597 – Independent Study for PhD Examinations
FEMST 598 – Thesis Preparation (for FEMST grads only)
FEMST 599 – Ph.D. Dissertation Research and Preparation (for FEMST grads only)

Courses offered in Winter 2018 outside the department (not a complete list and subject to change):

BLST 208 - Issues in Black Studies Epistemology and Pedagogy (Bashi Treitler)
FAMST 231 - Media Historiographies (Holt)
GLOBAL 229 - Logics of Inquiry (Lezra)
HIST 204H - Human and Post-Human Ontologies (Keel)
HIST 266A - Research Seminar in Recent U.S. History (Chavez-Garcia)
INT 594NP - Native American and Indigenous Studies Proseminar (Talamantez)
LING 236 - African-American Language and Culture (Charity-Hudley)
RG ST 206G - Seminar on Hindu Discourse of the Body (Holdrege)
SOC 207B - Sociological Theory (Anderson)
SOC 213 - Practice of Critical Ethnography (Bhavnani)
SOC 226 - Immigration (Telles)
SOC 294 - Special Topics: Sociology of Masculinities (Bridges)